CATTOLICA WINS THE GOLDEN LION FOR COMMUNICATION

Giovanni Grazioli, the Cattolica Institutional Communication Director received recognition for the Classeditori group at the “Milano Finanza Insurance Awards 2011”.

Verona, 15 April 2011. Another prestigious recognition for the work of Cattolica Assicurazioni. Giovanni Grazioli, Director of institutional Communication for the Group he entered into in 2000, was awarded the Golden Lion at the “Milano Finanza Insurance Awards 2011” (Classeditori group), for “best institutional communication, for product and finance”.

The prize was awarded yesterday evening at a charity dinner in Milan, for which the proceeds go to the Fondazione Onlus Rita Levia Montalcini.

For Cattolica, considered as one of the most advanced companies in Italy for the accuracy and clarity of its financial statements this is one of many demonstrations of appreciation shown by the financial community for the transparency and quality of the figures published by Cattolica and the messages it transmits to the market.

The «Milano Insurance Awards», which were created by the group specialising in financial publishing, represent an event of huge interest for members of the financial community. Other than the Golden Lion, Cattolica received prizes such as; The Insurance Elite prize, MF prize, Innovation prize, Company of Value prize and Tripla A Previdenza.
